

Santa Clara County
Office of Education

Culturally & Linguistically Sustaining Instruction through My Name, My Identity

A free online course to prepare for back-to-school with ready to use lesson plans

Self-Identity: Maximizing My Potential

Grades K-12

As teachers and students begin the 2020-21 school year in the shadow of a global pandemic and heightened awareness of the impact of systemic racism, what are the top priorities for teachers?

- Building relationships and community through teaching the importance of name and self-identity
- Embracing culturally & linguistically sustaining teaching: strengthening inclusive social, emotional, academic & language (English Language Development) instruction
- Integrating technology effectively to ensure access and agency for all students
- Having ready-to-use lesson plans as models to start the school year

Sign-up for this free course and receive access to global competency-based, teacher-created lesson plans and ready-to-use Google slides to teach the module on Self-Identity: Maximizing My Potential in a hybrid, distance learning, or traditional face-to-face environment! Lessons are designed for grade spans K-2, 3-5, and 6-12.

Audience: K-12 Teachers and Coaches

Focus: All students, including English learners and students in traditionally marginalized groups

To register: <https://bit.ly/mnmidcommunity>

Contact: Keysha Doutherd – KDoutherd@sccoe.org or 408-453-4345

My Name, My Identity is a partnership between the Santa Clara County Office of Education and the National Association for Bilingual Education.

Visit: mynamemyidentity.org